Zeno Media SERVICES GENERALLY

The Zeno Media Service is an interactive service that allows users to access radio stations around the world through a wide variety of means such as telephones, browsers, website widgets, players, apps, and mobile devices. We collect and store both Non-Personally-Identifying Information and Personally Identifying Information (both defined below) about users and their habits, activities and preferences when listening to radio programming offered through the Zeno Media Service. Such information is collected, retained and used as set forth in this Privacy Policy.

MICROPHONE ACCESS

Users have the opportunity to speak directly with radio broadcasters through the Zeno Media Service and such broadcasters may initiate such contact. Such communication may be conducted via traditional telephone communication, but may also be conducted via a mobile device or browser, website widget, or player. In order to conduct such communications (other than via traditional telephone communication), a user must enable the microphone on the applicable device. ACCORDINGLY, BY ENABLING THE MICROPHONE ON YOUR DEVICE, YOU ARE INDICATING THAT A BROADCASTER, OR OTHER RADIO STATION PERSONNEL, ARE PERMITTED TO CONTACT YOU DIRECTLY USING YOUR MICROPHONE VIA THE MEANS MADE AVAILABLE THROUGH THE Zeno Media SERVICE. We cannot control who hears your conversation once you are on the air and cannot control the broadcasters from re-broadcasting such conversations.

GATHERING, USE AND DISCLOSURE OF NON-PERSONALLY-IDENTIFYING INFORMATION

Users of the Service Generally "Non-Personally-Identifying Information" is information that, without the aid of additional information, cannot be directly associated with a specific person. "Personally-Identifying Information," by contrast, is information such as a name, email address or telephone number that, without more, can be directly associated with a specific person. Company gathers from users of the Zeno Media Service

Non-Personally-Identifying Information of the sort that devices, depending on their settings, may make available. That information includes, for users accessing the Zeno Media Service over the Internet, a user's Internet Protocol (IP) address, operating system and browser type, and the locations of the web pages the user views right before arriving at, while navigating and immediately after leaving the Zeno Media Service. If you use a mobile device to access the Zeno Media Service or download any of our applications, we may collect device information (such as your mobile device ID, model and manufacturer), operating system and version information, and IP address. Company collects and analyzes Non-Personally-Identifying Information gathered from users of the Zeno Media Service to help Company better understand how the Zeno Media Service is being used, how to promote the Zeno Media Service, and for the delivery of targeted advertising. By identifying patterns and trends in usage, including radio station listening habits and patterns, Company is able to better design the Zeno Media Service to improve users' experiences, both in terms of content, advertising and ease of use. From time to time, Company may also release the Non-Personally-Identifying Information gathered from the Zeno Media Service users in the aggregate, such as by publishing a report on trends in the usage of the Zeno Media Service.

Web Cookies

A "Web Cookie" is a string of information which assigns you a unique identification that a website stores on your computer or device, and that the user's browser provides each time the user logs on to or submits a query to the Zeno Media Service. We use cookies on the Zeno Media Service to keep track of services you have used and activities you have performed, radio stations you have listened to and listening and call-in habits, to record, if applicable, registration information regarding your login name and password, to record your use preferences, if applicable, to keep you logged into the Zeno Media Service, if applicable, and to facilitate purchase procedures, if applicable. Company also uses Web Cookies to track the pages that users visit and activities performed during each Zeno Media Service session, both to help Company improve users' experiences and to help Company understand how the Zeno Media Service is being used. As with other Non-Personally-Identifying Information gathered from users of the Zeno Media Service, Company analyzes and discloses in aggregated form information gathered using Web Cookies, so as to help Company, its partners and others better understand how the Zeno Media Service is being used. USERS WHO DO NOT WISH TO HAVE WEB COOKIES PLACED ON THEIR COMPUTERS OR DEVICES SHOULD SET THEIR BROWSERS TO REFUSE WEB COOKIES BEFORE ACCESSING THE Zeno Media SERVICE, WITH THE UNDERSTANDING THAT CERTAIN FEATURES OF THE Zeno Media SERVICE MAY NOT FUNCTION PROPERLY WITHOUT THE AID OF WEB COOKIES. USERS WHO REFUSE WEB COOKIES ASSUME ALL RESPONSIBILITY FOR ANY RESULTING LOSS OF FUNCTIONALITY.

Flash Cookies

"Flash Cookies" are a form of persistent cookies technically called "Local Shared Objects" (LSOs). Flash Cookies set an LSO to track your use of the Zeno Media Service. This tracking and storage can occur even after you have deleted your Web Cookies or opted-out of network advertising. This tracking sets two cookies on your computer – a standard cookie and a Flash Cookie. Flash Cookies can be considered to be equivalent to "normal" Web Cookies, except for a few minor differences. With Flash Cookies your data is stored in multiple places and it is restored once you delete it. Normal Web Cookies can be managed via the preferences dialog of most web browsers, but no similar utility for managing Flash Cookies is included in most web browsers. It is possible for Flash Cookies to remain on your computer indefinitely because an expiration date cannot be set for them. As with normal Web Cookies, a website that placed the Flash Cookie can only access data that it captured; it is not allowed to read Flash Cookies created by other websites.

Web Beacons

A "Web Beacon" is an object that is embedded in a web page that is usually invisible to the user and allows website operators to check whether a user has viewed a particular web page or an email. Company may use Web Beacons on the Zeno Media Service and in emails to count users who have visited particular pages, viewed emails, and to deliver co-branded services. Web Beacons are not used to access users' Personally-Identifying Information; they are a technique Company may use to compile aggregated statistics about the Zeno Media Service usage. Web Beacons collect only a limited set of information including a Web Cookie number, time and date of a page or email view, and a description of the page or email on which the Web Beacon resides. You may not decline Web Beacons, however, they can be rendered ineffective by declining all Web Cookies or modifying your browser setting to notify you each time a Web Cookie is tendered and permit you to accept or decline Web Cookies on an individual basis.

Telephone Access

When you access the Zeno Media Service via a telephone we obtain your telephone number (unless the caller ID is blocked), keep track of services you have used and activities you have performed, radio stations you have listened to and your listening and call-in habits.

Advertising

We or broadcasters may either directly or through third-party companies serve ads to you when you access the Zeno Media Service. Advertisers may use information about your visits to and use of the Zeno Media Service (including, without limitation, stations accessed, listening habits, and location of accessing telephone number) that are contained in Web Cookies, Flash Cookies or that we gather when you access the Zeno Media Service via a telephone (wireless or wired device) or other application or access method in order to provide advertisements about goods and services that may be of interest to you. We also allow advertisers to choose the characteristics of listeners who will be presented with their advertisements and we may use any of the non-personally identifiable attributes we have collected to select the appropriate audience for those advertisements. Advertisements may be served via SMS/text messages, voice messages, email, push messaging or other means from Zeno Media or affiliated third parties. If you are accessing the Zeno Media Service via the Internet, then using a tool created by the Network Advertising Initiative, you can opt out of several third party ad servers' and networks' Web Cookies simultaneously. If you would like more information about this practice and to know your choices about not having this information used by these companies, please follow the following link: http://networkadvertising.org/managing/opt_out.asp. Please contact us if you would like to know the identity of the third-party advertising companies we are currently using to serve ads.

Analytics

One of the third party services that we use to track activity related to our service, e.g., by placing cookies, is Google Analytics. We may use third-party vendors, including Google, who use first-party cookies (such as the Google Analytics cookie) and third-party cookies (such as the DoubleClick cookie) together to inform, optimize, and serve ads based on your past activity on our websites and applications, including Google Analytics for Display Advertising. If you do not want any information to be collected and used by Google Analytics, you can install an opt-out in your web browser (<https://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout/>) and/or opt out from Google Analytics for Display Advertising or the Google Display Network. You can do so by using Google's Ads Settings (www.google.com/settings/ads). Aggregated and Non-Personally-Identifying Information We may share aggregated and Non-Personally Identifying Information we collect under any of the above circumstances. We may also share it with third parties and our affiliate companies to develop and deliver targeted advertising on the Zeno Media Service and on websites of third parties. We may combine Non-Personally Identifying Information we collect with additional Non-Personally Identifying Information collected from other sources. We also may share aggregated information with third parties, including advisors, advertisers and investors, for the purpose of conducting general business analysis. For example, we may tell our advertisers the number of visitors to the Zeno

Media Service and the most popular features or services accessed. This information does not contain any Personally-Identifying Information and may be used to develop website content and services that we hope you and other listeners will find of interest and to target content and advertising.

Mobile Device Additional Terms

Unless we have received your prior consent, we do not access or track any specific location-based information from your mobile device at any time while downloading or using our mobile applications or the Zeno Media Services. However, based upon your IP address, the telephone number that you use to access the Zeno Media Service, Wi Fi network data or cell tower triangulation, we may record general non-specific locations. However, we may also automatically collect anonymous information about you when you have geographical location tools on your Internet-enabled device which have not been disabled. We may also collect anonymous information about you whenever you deliberately interact with one of our ads containing a quick response code or follow instructions to send a text, or visit a URL. If you have geo-location tools on your Internet-enabled device which you have not disabled, we automatically receive information on your device's location and may use it to comply with our contractual arrangements which restrict our sending certain programming channels outside of defined areas, such as when you want to listen to the Zeno Media service while in another country.

Push Notifications. We may send you push notifications if you choose to receive them for other service-related matters. If you wish to opt-out from receiving these types of communications you may request to have them stopped at any time via preferences on your mobile device.

We cannot control who reads your posting or what other users may do with the information you voluntarily post, so we encourage you to exercise discretion and caution with respect to your personal information. USERS ASSUME ALL RESPONSIBILITY FOR ANY LOSS OF PRIVACY OR OTHER HARM RESULTING FROM THEIR VOLUNTARY DISCLOSURE OF PERSONALLY IDENTIFYING INFORMATION.
